About BAU Global

The BAU Global Education Network is comprised of higher education institutions spread around the world. This international network welcomes students from across the globe to study at a number of locations. Students and graduates of BAU Global form an academic community that spans many countries on four continents: North America, Europe, Africa, and Asia. BAU Global universities offer nearly two hundred undergraduate, graduate and doctoral programs in architecture, art, business administration, communication, design, economics, education, engineering, health sciences, information technologies, law, medicine, and social sciences.

BAU Global develops global citizens who are committed to values that benefit the entire world. The institutions in this network not only meet the standards set forth by the accreditation bodies in their home countries, but are also highly ranked in the disciplines they offer.

MESSAGE FROM

Inquisitive thinking, hard work, and a multitude of academic perspectives have been timeless principles vital to providing students with a successful education. In our 21-year history we have strived to make these criteria an essential part of our global network's philosophy and curriculum. Having recognized the importance of being a global citizen, we have institutionalized our international programs and partnerships and today we encourage our students to study at least one of their semesters abroad through BAU network affiliates or at partners of these affiliates. Through our academic partnerships with universities, research centers, think tanks, and foundations worldwide, BAU students are exposed to and equipped with the skills and knowledge needed for today's increasingly multinational and multicultural business world fulfilling the needs of both the global and domestic workplace. With the support of our talented and devoted faculty members, who have dedicated themselves to their students' educational success, and our world-class curriculum that combines classroom education with relevant extracurricular activities, internship opportunities, and best practices in the field, students at BAU Global are uniquely prepared for their future careers.

I hereby invite you to join the BAU Global family to achieve your goals of being a global citizen and explore the endless opportunities that BAU Global has to offer.

BAHÇEŞEHİR UNIVERSITY

— İstanbul —

Bahçeşehir University (BAU) was founded in 1998 as a non-profit foundation university. Since then, it has constantly expanded its intellectual boundaries and maintained its commitment to providing a high-quality university education by focusing on fundamental academic disciplines. Over the past 21 years, Bahçeşehir University has established 8 undergraduate faculties, 4 graduate institutes, a vocational school, a school of foreign languages, a school of applied disciplines and a continuing education school.

After the university's first graduation ceremony in 2003, Bahçeşehir University moved its main campus to its current picturesque Beşiktaş location. Situated in downtown Istanbul, BAU is in and of the city, drawing its inspiration from the city's essence. Growing to four central campuses in recent years, each reflects the university's overall philosophy, which is to provide students with a nurturing environment in which students can become active and inquisitive learners, grow social and cultural awareness, acquire problem-solving and decision-making skills and develop strong ethical and moral standards.

NETWORK

Students within the BAU Global Education Network attend classes, participate in extracurricular activities, and further their development unfettered by geographic restrictions. They are free to explore all corners of the world as they grow in experience, becoming global citizens with an eye on the future.

NEW CULTURES AND MULTIPLE LANGUAGES

Besides the frequently used English language, which has become the common language of education, BAU Global students have the opportunity to learn languages such as Italian, German, and others by living in the countries where the BAU Global Education Network operates. Interacting with people of different nations and linguistic cultures, in their country of study, provides students with the opportunity to learn different languages and become closely acquainted with diverse cultures.

CAREER

Receiving education in different countries, possessing several diplomas, having established networks around the world and the career opportunities provided by them are of capital importance for BAU Global students. BAU Global students, who have these opportunities and have been trained as successful individuals, acquire the possibility of worldwide employment and find it easier to step into their professional lives with a new perspective and world-view.
