How do we Stand Out?

- BAU works closely with the premier think-tank, Global Policy Institute (GPI).
- The panelist include
 - former ambassadors
 - CEOs
 - US political campaign managers
 - ex-military personnel
- Discussions broaden their perspectives on global issues
- provide students with vital networking opportunities with powerful DC professionals.

Academic Faculty

All professors have held high-level positions at major DC institutions

- US Department of Transportation
- USAID
- Kodak
- IMF
- World Bank

Their vast connections within the DC community provide great opportunities for students to network and meet prominent DC professionals.

Internship/ Work Opportunities

- monthly newsletters about local careers fairs
 - emails job opportunities
 - mock interviews and student resumes.
 - Business Seminars
- BAU also offers
 - Curricular Practical Training (CPT) and Optional Practical Training (OPT)
 - Students can work for an employer for up to 12 months after graduation as long as it is related to their field of study.
 - STEM degree - students are eligible to work for an additional 12 months.

Co-op Program

- Coming soon (1-2 years)
- BAU will be partnering with major companies in DC in order to establish a

CO-OP program:

- allow students to intern for partner companies while studying or while on break
- offer special elective courses that are run by business personnel.
 - These courses will teach our students the skills and knowledge, which the companies want their future employees to know.
 - Our affiliate university in Istanbul, Bahcesehir University, has had tremendous success with their CO-OP program and we plan to be just as successful.
